

DEMOCRATIC DOINGS.

MEETINGS LAST NIGHT OF THE FULTON AND LEE DISTRICT CLUBS.

Addresses Made by Messrs. Wise, Elliott, Childrey, Ginn, Montague, Scott, Wallace, and Lamb.

The original Fulton Democratic Club held a splendid meeting last night at Belmont's Hall.

President Hartley was in the chair and Secretary Sarg was at his post.

A short business session of the club was held at 8 o'clock. Transfers and other matters pertaining to the coming election were attended to, after which there were short speeches from several prominent Democrats.

OUR NEXT CONGRESSMAN.

Hon. George D. Wise was the first speaker of the evening. He paid his respects to Langston in his opening remarks, quoting from the latter's address at the Exposition grounds.

The admission of the Republican States of Idaho and Wyoming and the rejection of New Mexico and Arizona, which were Democratic next referred to.

The two new States mentioned had a smaller population than the third congressional district of Virginia and yet they had two congressmen and four senators, which entitled them to six votes in the Electoral College.

New Mexico alone had four times the population of the two and still she was refused.

THE FORCE BILL.

Captain Wise next elucidated the mysteries of the force bill, which he denominated as "a damnable outrage upon popular rights." Some one had asked why Waddill voted for this bill and the answer was that the latter was going to run again while the former was not.

There was no use of a man running for anything in Virginia after voting for the force bill.

THEIR TIME FOR DISAPPEARING.

The Blair bill, declared Mr. Wise, was as dead as Hector. There was no surplus now with which to put it in operation even if passed.

The bill was a reasonable fact, but whenever the Republicans and a surplus met both of them always disappeared. Instead of there being a surplus for the present year there was a deficiency.

The total revenue, including postage receipts, was estimated at $10,000,000, while the appropriations were $10,000,000.

Mr. Wise next contrasted the attitudes of the two parties towards the working-man.

Fully reviewing the tariff, the speaker declared that the club to see to it that every Democratic voter was registered. There had been no candidate put up by the opposition as yet, but there was no telling what a day might bring forth.

COLONEL TAZEWELL ELLIOTT.

In introducing Colonel Tazewell Elliott the President alluded to him as one who had always been the choice of that section of the city, and whom he hoped to see the congressional candidate two years hence.

Colonel Elliott said he would not discuss the tariff or force bill, but simply the color question, which was really the true issue. He did not hate the negro, but loved the white man better.

The place for the negro was in the far South. They wanted there, where all who came were utilized in the cotton and sugar plantations, and were not brought in competition with white labor.

Colonel Elliott said he would not discuss the tariff or force bill, but simply the color question, which was really the true issue. He did not hate the negro, but loved the white man better.

They wanted there, where all who came were utilized in the cotton and sugar plantations, and were not brought in competition with white labor.

Colonel Elliott said he would not discuss the tariff or force bill, but simply the color question, which was really the true issue. He did not hate the negro, but loved the white man better.

They wanted there, where all who came were utilized in the cotton and sugar plantations, and were not brought in competition with white labor.

Colonel Elliott said he would not discuss the tariff or force bill, but simply the color question, which was really the true issue. He did not hate the negro, but loved the white man better.

They wanted there, where all who came were utilized in the cotton and sugar plantations, and were not brought in competition with white labor.

PARADE AND SUPPER.

WITH THESE THE REGIMENT CELEBRATES ITS ANNIVERSARY.

The Companies Present a Splendid Appearance—Speeches by the Governor, Mayor, and Several Others.

With a highly creditable street parade and a splendid supper, at which there were a number of good speeches made, the First Regiment Virginia volunteers yesterday celebrated the nineteenth anniversary of its reorganization after the civil war.

The date really fell on Sunday, but Monday was considered a better day to be observed, and hence the festivities of last evening.

Promptly at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the various companies, equipped in their heavy accoutrements and neat blue fatigue uniforms, commenced forming in line on Marshall street between Seventh and Eighth. A considerable crowd of spectators gathered around on the sidewalks, watching the companies with interest as they filed out from the Armory in perfect time, and every one was enthusiastic in their praise.

GETTING READY TO MARCH.

Before the parade started Marshall street, where the procession was being formed, presented a very busy and inspiring scene. Officers were galloping back and forth upon fiery chargers and privates were falling into ranks, equipped as if ready to enter a long campaign.

A few minutes before 4 the regiment marched triumphantly off to "the life's struggle and the drum's loud beat."

Returning to the Armory a little before 6, the companies hastened to divest themselves of their heavier trappings in order to better enable them to encounter the "hereafter," a glimpse of which had been caught as they passed upstairs.

AN INVITING SIGHT.

The tables in the lower hall were set in a very artistic manner. Over three hundred seats were arranged in long rows, all spots with their snow-white linen and decorated profusely with flowers, among which clustered autumn fruits of every kind.

Having stacked arms and removed their baggage to the upper floor, the officers and privates amused themselves in the brief interval between the feast by indulging in that invigorating game called "leap-frog," which was well calculated to stir the appetite even for a more humble feast than that which awaited them.

COULD TO SUPPER.

Finally, everything had been gotten in readiness and the delightful announcement that the banquet was ready was hailed with joy.

The officers, headed by Governor McKinney and Adjutant-General James McDonald, Rev. Dr. M. D. Hoge, and Major Elliott, then proceeded down the steps into the banquet room. Before opening the banquet, however, the officers and invited guests for a few minutes in the room.

halled into one of the rooms of the Armory, where they were individually introduced to Governor McKinney. After this every one took his place at the tables, and the divine blessings having been asked by Dr. Hoge, the banquet commenced.

SPLENDID MENT.

Oysters "of every shape and form" were served, and after these came delicious salads, pickles, and other viands, and later on delightful fruits, and lastly cigars. It is a pleasant sight to see over 300 hearty boys and men partaking of a meal at once, especially when it is a good one.

After the dining hall at the Armory, the officers and privates were individually introduced to Governor McKinney. After this every one took his place at the tables, and the divine blessings having been asked by Dr. Hoge, the banquet commenced.

WELCOMED BY THE COLONEL.

When the feast was over and the happy crowd of soldiers were beginning to feel at their best, Colonel Jones arose to deliver the address of welcome, and make a few remarks on the success of the regiment. He stated that the first sentiment to be responded to was "The Volunteer Soldier—The Guardians of America's Liberty," by Governor McKinney.

STREET BY THE GOVERNOR.

His Excellency then arose and received the hearty applause of the soldiers. He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

He said that the city of Richmond was proud to have the First Regiment of Virginia volunteers in its midst.

A TRIBUTE OF LOVE.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH TENDERS DR. BURROWS A HOME.

They Invite Their Former Pastor to Spend His Remaining Years Here—Notes from the Churches.

Rev. Lansing W. Burrows, D. D., will probably become a resident of Richmond again.

He will at least be invited to make this city his home for the remainder of his life and those who ask him to do so desire that he shall accept.

The letter of invitation goes from the First Baptist church, of which the distinguished divine was the successful and very popular pastor for about twenty years.

THE REASON FOR THIS ACTION IS THAT DR. BURROWS' HEALTH IS SO MUCH IMPAIRED THAT IT IS FEARED HE WILL NEVER BE ABLE TO RESUME THE ACTIVE DUTIES OF HIS PASTORATE IN NORFOLK AND THE CONGREGATION IN THAT CITY.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

He has been in the city since the late of the year 1870, and during that time he has been a most successful and popular pastor.

THOSE DEFECTIVE COLUMNS.

One of Them Purchased and to Be Put Up at New Castle.

The following from the New Castle Record gives further particulars of a transaction to which brief reference has been made in the Dispatch.

"As a part of the pedestal of the Lee monument at Richmond, Va., are four columns of polished stone, each four and a half feet in circumference and placed so as to stand immediately under the feet of the bronze horse upon which the great southern chieftain is mounted.

One of these columns is to be moved because of a slight defect as to size, so slight as not to be observed by the 150,000 people who witness the unveiling of the statue on the 24th of May last.

However, the Monument Association determined that every detail of this magnificent work of art should be absolutely perfect, and directed that this column should be removed.

"Some time ago Mr. C. Evensen, of Richmond, while on a visit to this place mentioned the above to General Scott and Major Humphreys, and suggested its purchase by the New Castle Land and Improvement Company which met with their hearty approval.

Subsequently the idea of moving the column upon negotiations with the proper parties for its purchase which have been closed, and as soon as the railroad reaches here this column will be removed and be placed in the public grounds fronting the Hotel Humphreys.

This New Castle will have secured a valuable and ornamental portion of the only equestrian statue ever erected to perpetuate the memory of Robert E. Lee.

There are two of these columns with flaws in them and they are to be taken out as soon as perfect ones can be rolled by the northern concern that furnished the present ones.

At the meeting of the Lee Monument Board held a week or two ago it was stated that assurances had been received that the pillars or columns will soon be ready for shipment.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY OLD.

The Herald Celebrates Its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary with a Big Paper.

The twenty-fifth post-humous anniversary of the Religious Herald occurs to-day and in honor of the occasion an eight-sheet paper, printed in the most beautiful style, will be issued.

The first issue was published after the war, in December, 1865, and in October of the same year the Herald was also re-issued. It was then under the conduct of Jeter & Dickinson, both of whom are now dead.

Five thousand extra copies of the Herald are to be printed and distributed free of charge to the churches and ministers of the city.

In this paper there are contributions from Dr. E. H. Johnson, of Crozier Seminary; Dr. Cornelius Tyree, Dr. James W. Williams, of Philadelphia; Dr. W. W. Williams, of E. W. Warren, Rev. Dr. John A. Broadbent, Rev. Dr. William C. Wilkinson, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Dr. B. Cheney, of Illinois; C. C. Bittling, D. D., Dr. M. D. Hoge, Bishop J. C. Granbery, Dr. Charles B. Crane, and also twenty columns of letters from different pastors and six columns about the educational institutions of Virginia Baptists.

There is also a sketch and cut of the Grove-Avenue Baptist church.

JOHN HAD MANY ALIASES.

Six Months for Stealing a Cow—Prominent Shooting in a House.

John Lewis alias Thomas Smith alias John Thomas alias William Thomas (colored) was before the Police Court yesterday charged with stealing a cow valued at $25, the property of Jessie Williams.

Lewis said that on the day of the cow people's parade an "old colored woman and lady" came up to him and asked him if he knew where they could sell a cow which they had with them. He replied "yes," and took charge of the cow for them and was attempting to sell it when he was arrested.

Williams, the owner of the cow, identified the animal as his property and said he did not know how Lewis had gotten possession of it.

As the accused told such a doubtful story Justice Critchfield gave him six months in the West for his crime, and sent him back into the prisoners' pen apparently pleased at his easy punishment.

SHOT IN HIS HOUSE.

Edgar Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

Peatross was charged with breaking into the house of J. H. Barrett (colored) and shooting and killing him with a pistol. The evidence showed that Peatross was under the influence of liquor and wandered into Barrett's house, where several shots were fired, and he was killed.

TALK ON VAIN GLORY.

REV. JOHN JASPER'S SERMON ON THE DOWNFALL OF NEBUCHADNEZZAR.

The Celebrated Divine is Opposed to Women Entering the Pulpit—Expects to Live Many Years Longer.

If the Rev. John Jasper was omitted from participation in the emancipation ceremonies because it was supposed that he was too unwell to attend great injustice was done him.

He returned to the city Saturday evening from one of the counties above Richmond in good health, and Sunday morning preached to his congregation at the Sixth Mt. Zion Baptist church.

His theme was Nebuchadnezzar's vain glory and downfall, and he said that a great many other people in this world besides Nebuchadnezzar were incapable of standing properly. He intimated, however, that he was not one of this class.

Honor and eminence did not turn his head. He said that a man of seventy-eight years of age was in fine health, and he marched up and down the platform perfectly erect, calling upon his congregation to look how straight he stood.

A good part of his sermon was in answer to some of the remarks that had been made against him in some quarter which he did not disclose.

OPPOSED TO WOMEN PREACHING.

In the course of his sermon the celebrated divine was very pronounced against women preaching. Exactly what caused him to make this digression upon the subject did not appear.

He ridiculed the idea of women occupying the pulpit, and wanted to know how he would look if he was going to get married and a woman undertook to conduct the ceremony.

He said he didn't care how learned the woman might be, if one of them was walking along the street and a "bastard" (he meant a cow) approached her, she would run away and catch hold of the first man she could and say: "Save me from that thing." He, however, paid a delicate compliment to the fair sex, and explained that there were many words that God had appointed for them to use, and that he would not have them to put an undue restriction upon their talking, but that the pulpit was not the place for them. God had assigned it to men.

THE FIERY FURNACE.

His description of the casting of the three Hebrew children into the fiery furnace was very graphic indeed, and he said that the historian had recorded (but he didn't know where he had gotten his information) that the heat from the furnace was so intense that it arose seventy-two feet in the air. He has been a student of the accuracy of that historian's observation that of the calculation of the scientist that the sun was 104,000,000 miles from the earth—a calculation which he very much doubted, inasmuch as nobody had ever measured the distance between the sun and the earth, and he said that the measure it would take about 700 years to get back home.

The entire sermon showed that this distinguished scientist, though advanced in years, is still in good physical condition, and he observed that though he thought the divine was a very old man, he would be very glad to get rid of him, he had a good chance of continuing here for some years longer.

His congregation was very responsive to all his appeals and intercessions, and he closed his sermon with a benediction and some other ejaculations tending to express their appreciation of his sermon.

COME UP AND CONTRIBUTE.

At the conclusion of his sermon the members of the congregation were invited to come up to the table and deposit their contributions. This their mode of collecting instead of handing around the basket as is usual in other churches, but those who fail or decline to come up to the table have an opportunity of making a contribution as they pass out of the doors, at each of which a brother stands with a basket in his hand.

He had on a very learned and able bald head and his spectacles were put on his nose with philosophical and mathematical accuracy and his standing collar was of unusual height and stiffness.

JOHN JASPER RETURNED.

When Rev. John Jasper returned from the country, where he had been for a couple of months, he found a formal invitation to the emancipation celebration awaiting him. He says he does not know whether or not he would have accepted if he had been here. He says he has depended entirely upon circumstances.

THE OUTLOOK FOR DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

The outlook for Democratic success in November is very bright. The possibility of a victory over the Republicans is now a certainty. The Democratic forces are now in a position to make a strong showing in the coming election.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FITCHER'S CASTORIA.

Go to Rossmore via Petersburg, Burkeville, and Lynchburg.

THE ROSSMORE RACES.

Three trains each way per day, connecting all in union depot and no omnibus or other transfers incident to other routes.

Round-trip tickets on sale October 21st, 22nd, and 23rd, good to return until October 24th, only $5.50.

For all information apply at Norfolk and Western railroad offices, 818 Main street.

R. W. COURTNEY, Passenger Agent.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FITCHER'S CASTORIA.

East-End Land Company's sale of valuable lots, South Boston, 23d and 24th October, 1890.

Leonard Heights.

Most charming and inviting locality.

Leonard Heights.

in the West End, $5, $6, and $7 per foot.

First Sale of Lots.

On October 21st and 22d the Chesapeake and Ohio railway will sell cheap excursion tickets to the Shenandoah Valley railroad to Front Royal and Riverton, good to return on 24th instant.

The splendid achievements of these towns during the past few months fully assure handsome profits to the purchasers at this first sale of about 1,000 lots.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FITCHER'S CASTORIA.

For Rheumatism, Arteritis, and Pulmonary Consumption, Fitcher's Castoria has remarkable curative properties. Sold only in boxes.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

For over fifty years MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by mothers for their children with untiring success. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children, and is the only one that can be given with perfect safety.

OUR SPECIAL FALL OVERCOAT SALE.

At this price you can get a fine overcoat for less than you can get it anywhere else.

At this price you can get a fine overcoat for less than you can get it anywhere else.